

AGGLOMERATED MATERIAL-CONTAINING RECYCLED SILICON

An agglomerate material, advantageously used for the production of sheets or slabs or blocks for flouring and/or cladding or furnishing items consists of a mixture comprising between 1% and 75% of a raw material being IT industry recycled silicon tablets in the form of powders, grit or the like, between 5% and 20% of a binder, a colorant and a filler aggregate.